Good Environmental Choice means:

Good Environmental Choice is an independent eco-label that contributes to a healthier nature and fewer hazardous substances in everyday products. The environmental requirements are set and controlled by the Swedish Society for Nature Conservation.

Criteria for Good Environmental Choice-labelled district heating:

With district heating labelled with Good Environmental Choice, we produce from renewable energy sources that meet strict environmental requirements for energy production and fuels. We also strive to make as little negative impact on biodiversity as possible. For every kilowatt-hour sold, we allocate money to an Energy Efficiency and Conversion Fund that finances energy efficiency measures.

Göteborg Energi's license number is 8-2013-0112-6 for Good Environmental Choice district heating.
